Dear Parents,

I have been inundated with amazing Maths work this week from a variety of children from different classes. Everyone is working really hard and I am very proud of the progress children are making. However I have read some amazing stories from Y1 and Y2 children so I am looking into meeting up with another school and have a 'Sharing Outstanding Work Afternoon.' Also Melissa Marshall and Naomi Webber-Taylor produced beautiful art work during an R.E. lesson. I will organise a trip to the Tate gallery in June for these wonderful artists. I have also managed to secure VIP tickets to a Colchester United match for someone who has worked really hard in Football Club. Who could that be? Watch this space!

A big thank you to Bishop Stephen who came to visit our school on Thursday morning. He was here to launch World Book Day and told the children one of the stories from his book Naughty Nora. Bishop Stephen is a great story teller and the children loved the twist at the end of the story. We have copies of the book in our library so get reading! Our book club has had the honour of reading the script of Bishop Stephen's new book. We wrote reviews and have sent them to Bishop Stephen.

Bishop Stephen also launched our Lent appeal, where we are making an effort to collect dried or tinned food for the Chelmsford Food Bank. We will deliver the food on 31st March 2017. Thank you Bishop Stephen for your support.

Good luck to Margaret Young who will be scouted for the top 10 football players in Essex on 17th March. A huge thank you to Ingatestone Junior School who are helping Margaret with her training as they have more girl players than our school.

I hope you have all had your appointment time for Parent's Evening. If you do not have your time, written on the return slip, please ask your class teacher. Please come to your appointment early so you can see your child's work.

Schools are encouraged to walk a mile a day. However our footpaths are not very good near the school, so we have decided to dance for 15 minutes most days. Will Smith our dance teacher, is leading the dancing and the children are learning some cool moves. We will assess the success of this project in the next few weeks.

There are lots of new dates for your diaries in bold in the right hand column. Please put these dates in your diary. It would be good to see as many parents as possible from Year 2 to talk about SATS on 28th March at 7pm. It is important that you understand the changes to the testing system and how your child's work is assessed.

I look forward to seeing you on Saturday morning to paint the Year 1 and 2 classroom. I will be in school at 9am. See you then!

Best wishes, Maire O'Regan

Information: Don't forget 4th March is Paint the Classroom Day! Bring your children if you have no child care and they can play in the playground or in the IT suite. The paint is ready!
